The Tough Side of Caregiving in Westborough, MA

Life throws curveballs, doesn't it? One day, you're planning vacations; the next, you're the full-time nurse after a hip surgery or when dementia creeps in.

Folks here in Westborough often handle it solo at first – tracking pills, helping with baths, dodging falls – but burnout lurks around the corner.

Here's what trips up most caregivers:

- Wrestling with tricky pill timetables that'd confuse a pharmacist.
- Spotting subtle health dips, like a low-grade fever turning nasty.
- Hauling loved ones around safely amid creaky joints.
- Squeezing in specialist chats amid your own chaos.
- Keeping your own world from spinning out of control.

Without backup, exhaustion hits hard. But home health steps up, sharing the heavy lifting so you don't crash.
